We deeply cherish our amazing team, whose dedication and care make our facility the warm, nurturing space it is. Their love and thoughtful instruction play a vital role in shaping your little ones into bright, curious individuals. To honor their incredible efforts and generosity, we've extended holiday observance days to give them the opportunity to recharge and spend quality time with their own loved ones. They truly deserve it, and we're grateful for everything they do to pour their hearts into your children every day.

In light of recent inquiries about adjusted tuition fees, I'd like to take a moment to clarify why our weekly tuition rates remain unchanged. As many of you know, we are one of the few centers that remain open on several national holidays, including Juneteenth, MLK Day, Columbus Day, and Veterans Day, among others. These additional operating days balance out the observance of extended holiday closures, ensuring continuity and fairness in our tuition structure. We appreciate your understanding and continued support as we prioritize both quality care and flexibility for our families.

Let's keep the holiday spirit bright and healthy! Together, we can spread joy, not germs, by staying mindful of wellness during this festive season.

Please keep sick children at home. We have another breakout of Hand, Foot, and Mouth Disease, and another case of Strep Throat. Children should not be at school with contagious illnesses, and should not return until they have been symptom and fever free for 24-48 hours.

Celebrate the season with love and joy. Make the most of your time with friends and family.
