Power of Play

Unveiling the Hidden Learning Gem

Emotional Regulation: In the whirlwind of preschool play, emotions run high and conflicts inevitably arise. Yet, these moments of friction are invaluable opportunities for emotional growth. Through negotiation, compromise, and conflict resolution, children learn to manage their emotions, regulate their impulses, and navigate social dynamics effectively. Because of the child-initiated aspect of learning centers, they become a laboratory for emotional intelligence, where preschoolers develop the resilience and self-awareness needed to thrive in diverse social settings

Solo Challenge: Magnificent Morse Code

Morse Code is a way to communicate. It was invented in 1838 by three people who wanted to talk to those living far away. In Morse Code, letters and numbers turn into dots, lines, and spaces. They would use a special machine to tap out the code, and the person on the other end would decode it back into letters. For this Challenge, you will transcribe your name onto a code bracelet using Morse Code

Follow the steps to create a Magnificent Morse Code bracelet:

1. Tape one end of yarn to the table.
2. Starting with the first letter in your name, create a bead pattern to match the letter pattern on the Morse Code Chart.
3. Add a white bead to create a space between each letter.
4. Continue with each letter of your name in order.
5. Remove the tape and tie your bracelet.
