Our January character emphasis is diversity—learning about the things that make us unique as well as the traits we all share. We will also be experimenting with magnets; and these two components—Science and Character—of our overall curriculum are good illustrations of an idea best expressed by Dr. King:

“The function of education is to teach one to think intensively and to think critically. Intelligence plus character - that is the goal of true education. “

Preschool Room 7

Ms. Lilia

January is a great month for science—clouds, solar power, air, and insulation—each topic provides us with “real-life” opportunities to use the Scientific Method (forming & testing hypotheses and then analyzing and applying results); and they are also SO MUCH FUN. Our January character emphasis is diversity, and we will be talking about all the wonderful things that make each of unique, as well as all of the traits we share. These two components—Science and Character—of our overall curriculum .

Diversity-the state of being diverse; variety.

Room 8

Ms. Shawna & Mr. Quinn

Our theme for the month is Weather and Seasons. Our science and nature focus is Polar Animals and Magnets. Our phonics will include identifying alphabet by sound, identifying initial consonant and vowel sounds, and recognizing rhyming pairs. We will also be counting from 1 to 100, adding and subtracting 1 to 5 as well as recognizing coins. We will also have tons of fun art projects including snowy scenes, a tree for all seasons, my mitten, and shapes penguins.

Room 9

Ms. Rabeh and Mr. Chris

As you know, we love science experiments! Experiments with clouds, static electricity, and magnets provide us with "real-life" opportunities to use the Scientific Method (forming & testing hypotheses and then analyzing and applying results); and this month, we're even applying some critical thinking in our character value emphasis on diversity. These two components—Science and Character—of our overall curriculum are good illustrations of an idea best expressed by Dr. King.

Dear Parents,

We will be learning all about diversity and cultures this month. Rooms 5-9 will be hosting our very annual "Culture Feast" on January 27, 2022 during lunch time. Students are requested to bring in one food dish representative of their own culture. Please make sure that the dish does not need refrigeration and that it comes in a disposable tin/tray. As always, make sure your dish is NUT FREE. We will need everything to be store bought this year. Come prepared to enjoy food from different cultures and to learn about others in an engaging and exciting way! Feel free to bring something that represents your culture to show the class or come dress in attire that best represents your culture. If you have any questions please call the front desk!
