Dear Parents,

Our students have adjusted wonderfully to their new classrooms and routines. For many families, October marks the beginning of the holiday season with Yom Kippur, Sukkot, Halloween and Diwali soon after. Cooler weather is promised to arrive, so don't forget to label your little one's jackets, hats, and other layers for the cool mornings and hot Texas fall afternoons. Keep checking your email this month dress theme Fridays, and possible new announcements and modifications for COVID-19 precautions set by our local regulatory agencies.

Thank you,
Brandy Crumley

September Fun

Teacher Training Day

On October 12, your child's teacher will have 8 hours of training on best practices in classroom management, lesson plans, parent communication and diversity. Thank you for supporting in our and allowing us to have this day to better our skills and techniques as early education professionals.

Fall Pictures

At this time, we are not allowed to have our photographer in the building. Ms. Gina is working on a creative way to take non-professional snap shots with a fall background.

As soon as we are released to allow non-emergency vendors inside, I will let you know.
